BAC bill backed

By Dave Gosnell
Staff writer

SPRINGFIELD — An Illinois legislative committee approved a bill that could change how voters throughout the state elect community college representatives.

The bill, sponsored by Rep. Sam Wolf, D-Granite City, would allow Belleville Area College district voters to elect BAC trustees by subdistricts instead of by an at-large vote.

The House Committee on Higher Education heard testimony from bill supporters and opponents before voting 10-6 for the bill. Ten votes were needed to advance it to the House floor.

"I think we did all right," said Wolf.

Candidates talk about Shoney's

By Bill Bagby
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — Aldermanic candidates differ about constructing a Shoney's Restaurant at Richmond Avenue and Nameoki Road.

The city's plan commission last week recommended the City Council not rezone four lots in the 7th Ward to allow the restaurant to be constructed.

"If we're going to grow, we're going to have to allow good companies in Granite City," said John Kreckovich, 7th Ward candidate.

The City Council, he said, should require guidelines dealing with possible noise, restaurant closing time and trash pick-up.

Emerald Dawes, also running in the 7th Ward, wants further study.

"I'd like to see a Shoney's in Granite," Dawes said.

If constructed, Shoney's could funnel storm water into a catch basin located on Richmond Avenue, said incumbent 3rd Ward Alderman Paul Fisk. Area residents have said the restaurant would add problems to storm water and sanitary sewers.

The matter should be referred back to the planning and zoning committee for further study, Fisk said.

VA to subpoena Hoffman records

By Jack C. Ventimiglia
Executive editor

GRANITE CITY — Real estate records held by attorney for State for the estate of Carl Hoffman will be subpoenaed by the Veterans Administration.

"We've got enough information on Hoffman that if he was alive we'd go with criminal charges right now," a VA investigator said Tuesday. "There would be no problem."

Additional information is wanted from the estate for review by the VA as it builds its case against Hoffman and several others thought to be involved in a loan scam. The investigator, asking not to be identified, said the VA has two cases ready against Hoffman, but may wait until five other Hoffman loans are checked.

"It's going to be awhile, any time after June," he said.

The VA's allegations will be handled through the U.S. attorney's office in East St. Louis. The VA may seek civil damages against Hoffman's estate. Civil, criminal or both types of cases may also be sought against a mortgage company, veterans and law-suiters, employees, the agent said. With the exception of a Springfield bank, those being investigated are in Granite City. The investigator said the VA reviews defaulted loans and finds most fail for legitimate reasons. But not those allegedly made by Hoffman. The seven VA loans reportedly handled by

Redevelopment area proposed in Venice

By Valerie Evenden
Staff writer

VENICE — "It is apparent that new housing will have to be built in Venice to provide the young population with adequate living conditions," Stan Lucas, a developer, told the City Council on Tuesday.

"It also will be necessary to provide good living conditions for the almost 20 percent of the population of the city that is over 60," Lucas said.

The median age of a resident is 27 and the average age is 33 years, he said.

Creating a tax increment district to rehabilitate property was suggested to the council by Lucas, a Granite City property developer.

The population is young and housing is old; most houses were built before 1950, said Lucas.

There is interest by development teams in three proposed projects, the developer said.

Former Bruce attorney goes to court tomorrow

By Bill Bagby
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — A preliminary hearing is slated at 9 a.m. tomorrow for the over-the-road truck driver who temporarily acted as a lawyer for convicted murderer Jack Bruce.

Glenda Hermann, 29, is accused of taking a car belonging to Bruce's mother, Dorothy Bruce. Hermann was arrested March 13 after she was seen at Bruce's trial, said Detective Sgt. Don Knight, Granite City Police Department. She was served a warrant on a felony charge relating to motor vehicles and was later released on a $40,000 recognizance bond, Knight said.

The hearing will be held (See BRUCE, Page 10A)

Mumps outbreak fight

GRANITE CITY — A state mumps emergency is forcing District 9 to adopt a strict vaccine policy for all students entering the 1987-88 school year.

Students must be immunized against mumps to enter school for the fall term. The district previously did not require mumps immunization.

The state recently approved an emergency law requiring mumps immunization for all school children. The Department of Health cited that 40 percent of all mumps cases in the country come from Illinois. The department is requiring all K-12 students to be immunized in order for districts to receive state aid, said Tom Holloway, the district's director of vocational education.

"They (the state) are making it very clear that we can't let them (school children) in next year without it (immunization)," said Holloway.

School records indicate many district students have not been immunized for mumps or have never had mumps or have never had mumps. Holloway said: children who have had mumps are immune.

Complications from mumps can cause encephalitis, hearing loss, sterility or death, according to the Department of Health.

Students or parents need to come the first day of school with a doctor's referral indicating the students have either been vaccinated or have had the mumps. Holloway said. Children who were vaccinated before their first birthday must also be immunized, he said.

"Mom can't come in and say 'Oh yeah, he had the mumps when he was 4 years old,'" Holloway said, because the state is requiring documentation.

Students from low-income families who qualify for government assistance can be vaccinated without charge at St. Elizabeth Medical Center in Granite City at the hospital's free clinic the first Saturday of each month. Holloway said parents who have questions about the mumps immunization should call the school their child attends and ask for the school's nurse. The schools maintain a medical file on each student.

Mumps cases in Illinois have jumped from 292 in 1985, to 2,743 in 1986. Illinois was one of 18 states that did not require mumps immunization before the new emergency law.

PONTOON-BEACH residents question Metro East Sanitary District Director Shang Greathouse at his Granite City office on Tuesday.

MESD ordinance not enforced

By Dave Gosnell
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — A Metro East Sanitary District ordinance is not being enforced and Pontoon Beach residents opposing a proposed trailer park want to know why.

Three residents of Quiet Valley subdivision in Pontoon Beach and a precinct committeewoman attended the MESD meeting Tuesday to ask why developer Dan Peacock did not need MESD approval to put 325 proposed trailers near their homes. An MESD ordinance calls for such approval.

"Your jurisdiction goes into all villages and cities within the (MESD) district. The buck-passing has to stop," Helen Hawkins, a Nameoki Township committeewoman told MESD Director Shang Greathouse.

Hawkins referred to an MESD ordinance passed in 1969 that requires MESD approval for construction within the district as it affects drainage. The ordinance empowers MESD to levy fines up to $500 a day if the approval is not granted. No approval was sought for the trailer park.

Greathouse said he only recently learned of the ordinance and does not know if it is enforceable. He said he has never issued fines and does not know if MESD can legally tell developers not to build.

"I'm not going to be the guy to tell him no. I'd have a lawsuit in 15 minutes," Greathouse said.

"We don't issue a permit. We issue a recommendation." Greathouse said he plans to check with an attorney about the ordinance.

"We'll check it out and see what authority we have," Greathouse said.

A proposed trailer park near Marigold Drive in Pontoon Beach has drawn fire from nearby residents who are concerned about property values and traffic problems. Pontoon Beach residents at the MESD meeting, Sandra Bristol, Vickie McCauley and Judy Merrill, were also concerned about drainage.

Though a special use permit for 125 trailers was issued by the Pontoon Beach Zoning Board of Appeals, that decision was sent back for reconsideration to the ZBA by the Pontoon Beach Village Board.

Peacock said he has approved for 200 trailers based on a 1972 letter from Pontoon Beach Mayor Glen Wilson.

When seeking a permit for the 125 trailers, Peacock said he was not told by ZBA officials that he should get MESD approval. He said MESD approval was not sought for the 200-trailer development.

"I've never heard of it," Peacock said of the ordinance.

"I'm not aware that we have to (get MESD approval)," Peacock said.

Peacock said he has had the land studied for drainage problems where the trailers are to be placed. He said a 40-acre pond which he owns will be used to collect runoff.

Peacock said he would not mind if MESD wanted to look at the property.

"If someone wants to survey it, that's OK with me," he said. McCauley said she is concerned that MESD does not approve developments in the area.

"It's a little scary that he's (Peacock) already been approved without looking at drainage," she said.

MESD should be enforcing the ordinance in all areas of the district, Hawkins said.

"It's a very good tool. It's like with these mobile homes. If this is allowed to be developed and it floods, the first person they are coming for is you," Hawkins told Greathouse.

Completes program on job planning for the disabled

Four Metro East residents have completed certification as team trainers for Next Steps: Planning for Employment, a program sponsored by the Illinois Department of Rehabilitation Services (DORS).

The program assists parents in planning for the future of their children who have disabilities.

Fields who are responsible for preparing disabled youths for future employment.

Parents learn from other parents to be better advocates for their children's rights through greater involvement in planning their education. The ultimate goal of Next Steps is for parents to work within the community to help their children achieve maximum independence after leaving public schools.

The Next Steps parent advocacy program has grown rapidly in Illinois over one year of activity. The new teams join a network of teams, formed in 1986, in Bloomington, Carbondale, the Moline area, three Chicago-based teams including one Spanish-speaking group, and a central Illinois team sponsored by the Alliance of Exceptional Children and Adults.

Training of Next Steps teams is provided by DORS personnel and program experts from the Parent Educational Advocacy Training Center in Alexandria, Va.

Melba Grady, of Granite City, is among the four. She will join other parents, educators and rehabilitation professionals who will form teams in the Illinois communities of Belleville, Springfield, Mattson and Moulf, Carmel and in DuPage/West Cook County.

Team members studied topics including career development, job training and placement program, parental rights regarding student records, and post-secondary learning and vocational opportunities.

They were trained to teach parents in the Belleville area the knowledge, skills and attitudes to work cooperatively with professionals in education and other

Trip to Dollywood planned

The Granite City Park District will sponsor the first weekend trip of the season to Gatlinburg, Tenn., on May 22, 23 and 24.

Tickets for the trip will go on sale in the Wilson Park office on Tuesday, April 7, at 8 a.m.

A highlight of the trip will be a visit to Dollywood, the theme park named after and owned by entertainer Dolly Parton. The park features music shows, rides and crafts.

The group will stay at Brookside Resort, Gatlinburg, where it will be greeted with a wine and cheese reception and a prize for the one whose name is chosen.

The resort is at the North Gateway to the Great Smoky Mountains National Park in a quiet, natural setting within three blocks of Gatlinburg's downtown attractions. A mountain stream flows along the back of the property, with two covered bridges over the stream.

There are several restaurants within walking distance of the motel, all meals will be paid by the individual at the time they are eaten.

A spokesman said, "Due to the length of the trip, nothing has been planned as a group activity for that Friday night. However, a trolley system is available that can get one to all the best restaurants, shopping and entertainment. Saturday will be spent at Dollywood and Saturday evening will again be open for one's own choosing."

The cost of the trip is $134.65 for a single, $104.65 each for two to a room; $83.90 each for three to a room and $89.15 each for four to a room. The full amount is paid at the time of reservation.

Reservations can be made for no more than four persons, with proof of residence being presented for each person making the trip. Non-residents are placed on a waiting list.

Shoney's has rezoning problems in Collinsville

COLLINSVILLE — Granite City isn't the only place where Shoney's is having rezoning problems.

The Collinsville planning commission voted last week to recommend to the Collinsville City Council to deny a rezoning request for the construction of a Shoney's restaurant.

Shoney's wants to construct a restaurant on Beverly Lane in Collinsville. A commission member said the location was incompatible with nearby homes.

Charlie Vaughn, director of real-estate for Shoney's, said he doesn't know if the company will search for an alternative location in Collinsville.

St. Louis men robbed

Two St. Louis men were beaten and robbed at knifepoint by two men in an incident which started outside a lounge in Brooklyn and ended in Venice in the early morning hours of March 23.

Ronald Schuble of St. Louis was stabbed in the left hand with a switchblade knife wielded by a man who also had a 25-caliber automatic in the back shoulder holster. He reported being robbed of his wallet, containing $30 and some keys.

An emergency medical technician from Campbell Ambulance Service wrapped Schuble's hand at the Venice police headquarters, where the report was made. The injured man declined further treatment; authorities said.

Steven Herrington of St. Louis and Schuble said the incident started when a woman got out of a parked car outside the Red Garter in Brooklyn and reported two men were driving in the back seat of her auto, wanting her to take them home. She professed to being afraid and asked the St. Louisans to drive her home. She said her name was Debbie.

Schuble reported driving the vehicle, accompanied by the woman and the two men in the rear seat, until they reached the 400 block of Weaver Street in Venice.

When he stopped there, Schuble said, the male passengers began to beat him and one of the men stabbed him in the hand.

Herrington, who had been following in his car, tried to help Schuble and also was beaten. Herrington was robbed of his wallet, containing $200 and credit cards. Both assailants and "Debbie" left the scene in the woman's auto, a brown Pontiac LeMans, the victims said.

The St. Louisans stopped a patrolling Madison officer, who directed them to the Venice police station. The area was searched but the Pontiac and its occupants were not located.

The robber with the weapon was about 5 feet, 4 inches tall, dark-skinned, with a broad face. He was wearing a white shirt, jeans, a jean jacket and white sneakers. The other man was tall; thin and light-skinned. Both were black.

"Debbie" was in her early 20s, about 5 feet 6 inches tall and weighed between 170 and 175 pounds. She had brown, shoulder-length hair and blue eyes.

ADVERSE DRUG REACTION

Few medicinal drugs have only one action. The desired one. Most drugs also have side effects, usually so mild they go unnoticed. However, sometimes a drug and many people are allergic to penicillin or aspirin. If you experience blurred vision, heart palpitations, dry mouth, hives, insomnia — these are warnings that either the drug or the dosage is bad for you. You are probably experiencing an "adverse drug reaction" and should contact your doctor or pharmacist immediately.

SUBUNGUAL HEMATOMA

Q. What can be done for a blood blister under the nail?

A. A blood blister, or hematoma, under the toenail usually occurs as a result of someone tripping and injuring the nail plate. This is especially common in older persons, who may also have a rather unsteady gait.

First, an X-ray of the toe will be taken to rule out a fracture. Then, an ice pack can be placed on the nail to reduce swelling. The pressure that has built up under the nail, due to the accumulation of blood, is then carefully relieved. Professional skill is required to avoid permanent damage to the nail plate.

Sale of King Bridge announced Monday

By Bonita Gower-Tillman
Staff writer

ST. LOUIS — The purchase of the Martin Luther King Jr. Bridge was completed Monday, said Ronald Thompson, chairman of the Mississippi River bridges panel. Formerly owned by East St. Louis, the bridge was turned over to the Illinois Department of Transportation so engineering work for its repair can begin.

Toll booths were removed Monday, making it the area's second free bridge, officials said.

The bridge's eventual repair depends on the availability of federal funds, Thompson said. The panel is looking at 1988 federal highway money.

The panel's goal is to oversee repairs to bring the bridge back up to standards and its eventual transfer to the federal government to put into the interstate highway system.

The $4 million bond buyout was paid through grants from Bi-State Development Corp., the transit districts of St. Clair and Madison counties and the city of St. Louis. Though dissident bondholders objected to the purchase price for the bridge and filed an appeal, Thompson said he had been assured by legal consultants that Monday's action cannot be undone.

He thanked all who made the purchase possible, saying their collective assistance demonstrates their commitment to finding solutions to the long-term transportation needs of the region.

The eventual joint ownership and operation... (between Illinois and Missouri) represents the spirit of bi-state cooperation needed to address this region's major transportation issues," Thompson said.

In a statement read by Stephanie Anthony, Mayor Carl Officer also thanked the various agencies for making the purchase and transfer possible.

However, he reminded officials that the bridge's toll booth workers will be displaced by the action. "Unfortunately, all things are not good to all people," Anthony read. "We must not forget the few, who for so many years have dedicated their time and talent to their city."

Thompson said Illinois and Missouri governors already had promised to help East St. Louis find jobs for those working there.

When agreeing to sale of the bridge, city officials had asked that the bridge's name not be changed.

"To my knowledge, there's no chance this will be changed, but if it is made part of the federal interstate system, it cannot by law have a name," Thompson said.

St. Clair County Board Chairman Jerry Costello said he has worked for a long time behind the scenes to get the bridge dilemma from the back to the front burner.

William Haine, chairman of the Madison County Transit District, thanked citizens of that county for their patience and cooperation in making a decision for the public interest.

Bridges further north need help, Haine said, and he hopes the bridges panel will look into help for them.

Jerry Blakemore, who represented Illinois Governor James Thompson, said the state is committed to getting all the area's bridges rehabbed so further development can occur.

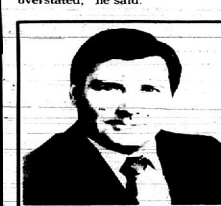

"This is not only of regional significance, but for expansion overall," he said.

The panel will turn its efforts to getting federal funds for bridge and passage of Proposition A by Missouri residents to link the Martin Luther King Bridge and I-70, Thompson said.

"Without the passage of the proposition, this needed improvements will be seriously jeopardized," he added.

After that funding is secured, the panel will focus on problems of other downtown bridges, Thompson said.

"The importance of the Eads, McKinley and MacArthur bridges as vital transportation links cannot be overstated," he said.

Matthew 9:12 "... Son, be of good cheer, thy sins be forgiven thee."

Do you know the thrill of knowing your sins are forgiven? Rejoice if you do, for many today have not, nor will they ever know, what it means to be forgiven by God.

It's said to say, but some are not aware that they need forgiveness! They do not lie or steal, they do not covet, certainly, they never committed murder. They will find it hard to ask God to save them because they do not know they are lost! This is always the case, when we compare ourselves with others.

We must compare our lives to the holiness of Almighty God. Then, Who shall be able to stand? There is none righteous, no one not one.

The miracle of Christianity is that we ask God to forgive us our sins, and He does! He substitutes the righteousness of His Son, Jesus Christ in the place of our sin! If you believe this, you can be saved.

Ask Him, Today!

Corps questions Riverport plan; opponent applauds approach

By Cathy Kmoch
Staff writer

The U.S. Army Corps of Engineers seems to be ready to play hard ball with St. Louis County over a plan to build a domed stadium in Riverport, said R. Roger Pryor, an environmentalist.

The corps is now asking a lot of questions we thought they should have asked before," said Pryor, program director of the Coalition for the Environment.

"It's the fourth quarter with about 30 yards to go and I think the corps is going to play hard ball from here on out."

Pryor's comments were prompted by a letter from the Corps to the Sverdrup Corp., developer of the 500-acre Riverport project in Maryland Heights. The development would include commercial, industrial and retail development.

The letter written by Robert M. Amrine, the district engineer for the corps, says Sverdrup must list all facilities and activities planned for the 100-acre stadium site and an area to the south also being considered for development.

It also calls for engineering and traffic studies to show how the projects would effect the wetlands.

Information supplied earlier by the county may not have included all of the facilities planned for the area south of Riverport, Amrine says in the letter.

Sverdrup memorandums suggest that football practice fields and dog tracks might be built, the letter says. And the developer must explain all the activities and facilities planned for the area, it says.

"We need to get some answers to our questions before proceeding further," Mel Jewett of Amrine's staff said Tuesday.

"We hope to get some good, candid answers to our questions so we know what all is planned in the area."

Jewett said the corps obtained "in-house" documents from Sverdrup suggesting a dog track, football access field or railroad spur access may be included in the development.

But the documents could be speculation, he said.

"If there was a dog track, then there would be a question as to where it would be located in relation to the stadium and the wetlands," Jewett said.

The corps was asked to reevaluate a permit the developers must have to build a levee protecting the project from surrounding Missouri River wetlands. If the stadium and related projects would effect the wetlands more than originally anticipated, a new permit or an application to fill in the wetlands would be necessary, the letter says.

"There would be several steps we could take depending on the answers to the Corps' questions," Jewett said.

Roads in the area may not be able to handle additional stadium traffic, and any expansion or extension of the road system would effect the wetland area, according to the letter.

Pryor said the corps is saying, "Look, the information you gave us previously is suspect. If you want us to approve what you're doing, you have to give us information to back it up."

St. Louis Football Cardinals owner William V. Bidwill recently sent a letter to County Executive Gene McNary stating that he would use the stadium in Riverport, McNary received a copy of the Corps' letter, but had no comment on it Monday. Sverdrup officials also declined to comment on the letter.

Pryor anticipated McNary's reaction.

"I suspect this letter isn't going to be quite as well with Mr. McNary as the little letter of intent (to lease the stadium) he got from Bill Bidwill," Pryor said.

Road money freed by Congress

Gov. James R. Thompson on March 20, commended Congress for passing the long-delayed Surface Transportation Assistance Act which restores the flow of federal funds for construction and repair of Illinois roads.

The measure now goes to President Ronald Reagan for approval.

"Because of the stalemate in Congress over such issues as the 65 mile-per-hour speed limit and other issues," Thompson said, "federal funds that had been obligated for specific highway projects in this year's Illinois road program have been delayed by nearly six months."

"We join other states in urging the president to sign the new five-year transportation act to avoid further delay of major projects. If federal funds are not soon restored to Illinois and other Northern states, the entire construction season will be lost resulting in increased costs and the loss of construction jobs."

"I want to emphasize the money we will be receiving over the next five years is not new money, but is federal dollars we had counted on to initiate projects already on the books."

"We anticipate receiving approximately $450 million in federal funds for Federal Fiscal Year 1987 which began October 1, 1986. This is $50 million less than we received last year."

"That reduction reflects the cutback in federal funds which is affecting all states as Congress and the Administration work to reduce the federal budget deficit," Thompson said.

"The anticipated reduction in federal funds was one of the major factors which prompted Illinois as well as 36 other states to consider increases in highway user fees," Thompson said.

Former Soviet dissident, Orlov, hoping for peace

By Pamela Selbert
Correspondent

Dr. Yuri Orlov, a former Soviet dissident, was a political prisoner within his own country. He was starved and tortured, then forced into internal exile in Siberia.

Orlov's crime was that he helped found Helsinki Watch, an organization of dissidents created to oversee Soviet compliance with the human rights provisions of the Helsinki accords.

An internationally respected physicist and World War II veteran, Orlov, 62, was a member of the Communist Party until 1956. But after making a speech calling for democratic reforms in the Soviet Union, Orlov was forced to move to the Soviet Republic of Armenia. However, his scientific work earned him the right to return to Moscow in 1970. Then, in 1976, came Helsinki Watch and a seven-year prison sentence that included five years of internal exile.

Freud in October as part of the deal that released U.S. reporter Nicholas Daniloff from Soviet custody. Orlov resides in New Jersey. Cornell University has given him a three-year non-teaching position in the nuclear science lab.

In his first major address since his release, Orlov spoke on March 30 to a large gathering at the Loretto Hilton Theatre at Webster University. The title of the speech, "International Security and Human Rights," refers to Orlov's thesis that there is a direct relationship between those two subjects and that one can never be achieved without direct attention to the other.

"No one wants war, but the Soviet Union wants to increase its influence everywhere in the world, and consequently has committed a great number of aggressive acts," Orlov said.

The questions are whether such a country can be trusted and what can be done to change the situation, Orlov told the audience.

"Now, we come to the problem of human rights in the Soviet Union," he said. "I, for one, condemn the United States for its role in Vietnam. But when the U.S. engaged in this war, the citizens had the right to protest, and this protesting led to the closing of the war."

Conditions are very different in the Soviet Union, he said.

"When the Soviet Union invaded Afghanistan, not one was allowed to protest," Orlov said. "(Soviet dissident Andrei) Sakharov raised his voice, and was forced into exile in Gorky."

How many military bases does the Soviet Union have in various parts of the world? Orlov asked. Answering his own question, he said, "The ordinary (Soviet) citizen has no knowledge of this or right to know. Soldiers may not tell what they did or saw in Afghanistan. This situation allows the government to do whatever it wants."

In such an atmosphere where decisions of peace and war are made by a select few and the citizens have no say, security is impossible, Orlov said. Only in a world where the common people are allowed to criticize and alter the politics of a nation can peace be assured, he said.

Q: I own several Series EE United States Savings Bonds. I understand that there is now a U.S. Bond which pays current income. Can you tell me which bonds these are, and is there a penalty for changing those I now own for the new series?

A: You're referring to the Series HH Bonds. These Bonds will pay the owner yearly interest. Payment is made in the form of two semi-annual checks, and payment is made for as long as you own the HH Bond. You can exchange your Series EE (or Series E) U.S. Savings Bonds for the HH Bond. One of the benefits of such a "swap" is no federal taxes are due when the exchange is made. In other instances, when an individual is considering cashing in Series E or EE Bonds in order to reinvest in an income yielding investment arrangement, federal tax must be paid on the difference between the original cost and the cash-in-value. So, there is a distinct advantage in such an exchange or "swap."

Safety tips for spring drivers

Early spring showers can be hazardous for motorists who may not be aware that roads are most dangerous at the start of a rain.

Surface oil and grease form a slick film that is not washed away until after 20 or 30 minutes of hard rain. Leaves also make roads slippery when it rains.

Hydroplaning, which can be caused by speeding and too little tire tread or pressure, occurs at about 35 mph when tires begin to lose contact with the road surface. At speeds up to 35 mph, most tires "wipe" the road like a windshield wiper. However, as the speed increases, tires actually ride up on a thin layer of water like a set of water skis. Partial hydroplaning begins on most automobiles at about 35 mph and increases with speed to about 55 mph when the tires may be completely up on water. If you start to skid at speeds less than 55 mph, you should be able to regain control by taking your foot off the accelerator and letting the car slow down. Steer in the direction you want the front of the car to go.

In a severe rainstorm, tires lose all contact with the road at 55 mph. As a result, no friction is available to brake, accelerate or corner, and a gust of wind, curve in the road or slight turn can throw your car into an uncontrollable skid. If this occurs, release the accelerator and ride out the skid.

VA guarantees 12-millionth loan

The Veterans Administration guaranteed its 12-millionth home loan in March.

Since the loan guaranty program began in 1944, the VA has backed loans on 22 percent of the 54,724,000 owner-occupied housing units in the U.S. These loans totaled $275 billion.

Samuel L. Holmes, Chicago VA regional office director, said he considers the loan guaranty program one of the most significant veterans' benefits ever.

"This program has helped the entire nation, not only participating veterans. Home ownership is an important factor in maintaining a strong economy," Holmes said.

In Illinois, more than 369,630 home loans have been guaranteed by the VA since the end of World War II. The distinction of the 12-millionth goes to a young post-Vietnam era Army veteran in Phoenix.

The VA does not make home loans directly to veterans. Rather, it guarantees the lender against loss of up to 60 percent of the loan, with a maximum guaranty of $27,500. The current interest rate is 8.5 percent, the lowest since February 1978.

Holmes said that through last year 7.5 million loans had been paid in full and 4.3 percent had resulted in foreclosure.

Veterans interested in using their benefits should call the Chicago VA regional office using the toll-free number listed in their area telephone book.

VA to subpoena Hoffman records

Hoffman went into default on the first payment, the investigator said.

"That's kind of a good indication of fraud — no payment," he said.

In addition to the Hoffman investigation, five loans made by two other Granite City realtors are being reviewed, he said. He declined to name others being investigated.

If Hoffman was involved in a loan scam, the VA will consider seeking repayment from his estate, the investigator said. Others involved would also face repaying the VA for twice the amount lost by the administration, the investigator said. In the two cases furthest along in the Hoffman investigation, the amount in default is about $45,000.

In one of the seven cases, a Granite City pharmacist reportedly falsified information to help his brother get a loan. The brother had just been released from prison, but provided information to the VA that he'd been working for the pharmacist.

If the VA finds real estate and mortgage company agents involved in the alleged loan scam, those agents will find their ability to do business curtailed.

"We can suspend them from doing business with the VA," the investigator said.

If the VA won't do business with a realtor, the Department of Housing and Urban Development may refuse to work with the realtor, the investigator said. HUD is in charge of Federal Housing Administration loans.

"We will pursue the proper avenues to prosecution — criminal is criminal," said John Scholzen, a VA spokesman.

Charges involving fraud are prosecuted by the Department of Justice, Scholzen said Wednesday.

Out of 4.1 million VA home loans outstanding, 2.85 percent are in default, said Bonner Day, VA spokesman, Washington. He said Wednesday he does not know what percentage of loans in default can be attributed to fraud.

"We don't know the exact rate, but it's a very small percentage of defaults," he said.

The man being investigated, Carl Hoffman, was murdered with his wife, Susan, on April 30, 1986. Jack Bruce was convicted March 19 of the murders. Prosecutor Robert Trone said Bruce was angry about losing more than $50,000 to Carl Hoffman while playing poker.

usually go along with the zoning board recommendation," said incumbent 2nd Ward Alderman Sam Whitmer.

"Shoney's would be an asset to this city," Whitmer said. "I hope we don't lose them."

"Shoney's should definitely be allowed in Granite City," said Dusan Gagic, 6th Ward candidate.

Several candidates said Shoney's should locate downtown.

"I believe Shoney's would go downtown," said incumbent 3rd Ward Alderman Lloyd Bailey. "Maybe that's what we need to help downtown out."

City officials, Bailey said, should meet with Shoney representatives and try to get them to build downtown.

"It seems like everything that comes into this city, someone wants to fight it," Bailey said.

"I'd like to see Shoney's here," said Juanita Crawley, 1st Ward candidate. "I think they don't want to come downtown."

• BAC

BAC bill gets, Committee approval

sponsored by Wolf's bill, Illinois Community College Trustee Association representatives spoke against it.

Schermer, a former BAC trustee, told committee members the present election system is flawed.

"The current system of trustee elections does not produce an equitable distribution of control of our community college throughout our district. Of the total local tax support for Bellevue area colleges, Madison County provides approximately one third. However, Madison County is not represented on the board," Schermer said.

Schermer said St. Clair County has always dominated the BAC board, though the county pays less than half of the district's taxes.

"The only way anyone can say that the system is anything but a failure would cause monumental dislocation" in other districts.

"We have 33 colleges functioning well and one complaining," said Kathy Miller, executive deputy director of the Commudown town," said Carrie Uriste, 2nd Ward candidate. "I think the residents would be happier."

City officials should work with Shoney's to find an alternative site for the restaurant, said Dan Porey, running in the 4th Ward.

There are "technical questions that have to be answered," concerning the restaurant, said Alderman Tom Hewlett, seeking election in the 4th Ward.

"Obviously it's something the city could benefit from a lot of different ways," Hewlett said. "We could use another family type restaurant in Granite City."

Jim Ortiz, 2nd Ward candidate, said he favors Shoney's if the water problem is dealt with before the restaurant is constructed.

"It's a good thing for the city to have Shoney's, but the residents of the area have the right to complain," Ortiz said.

Sixth Ward candidate Walter Milton would like to see a Shoney's built in the Nameoki Road area, he said, and possibly another lot. The tax revenue and 70 new jobs that would be created are important factors, but he understands the residents' concerns.

Other candidates didn't favor construction of another restaurant.

"We've got quite a few of these fast food places here," said Sam George, also running in the 4th Ward. "We're getting kind of flooded."

Bill Moreland, 5th Ward candidate, said he's against Shoney's because area residents opposed it.

"I'm for what the people are for," Moreland said.

Darrell Harbison, running in the 3rd Ward, said vague answers were given last week's plan commission by John Hogg, a Shoney representative.

"I was kind of glad to see the board turn it down," Harbison said.

Harbison agreed with other candidates that city officials should work with Shoney's to find another location, he said.

"It's a shame to lose the revenue," he said.

Incumbent 1st Ward Alderman Everett Morlen reserved comment because he hasn't looked at the location where Shoney's wants to build, he said. Alan Fust, also running in the 1st Ward, said he didn't want to take a position because he didn't know all the facts.

James Miller, a candidate in the 2nd Ward, was out of town and couldn't be reached for comment.

There are 39 Illinois community colleges. College boards in Chicago and East St. Louis are appointed.

Miller said the bill may cause less minority representation on community college boards and that 1,000 signature requirement may cause referendum drives to occur "every year."

"You can get 1,000 signatures in shopping mail in two hours," Miller said.

Miller said if there are problems in districts such as BAC's, the federal government, using the Voting Rights Act, can intervene.

The proposed solution is much too severe for the problem," he said.

Some committee members expressed concern to Wolf about using the Board of Elections to draw election boundaries and how election boundaries would be dealt with if a district's population expanded.

Wolf said he welcomed revisions, and "fine tuning" of his bill.

Wolf said he expected the bill to be up for a House vote by late April or early May. He would not predict the chances of passage.

Play warms heart, nips funny bone

By Deborah Reinhardt
Staff writer
Imagine The Waltons, with cocaine addictions. Now you've got the Sycamores, the quirky clan in the classic You Can't Take It With You. The Theater Project Co. production at New City School on Waterman in St. Louis. The Sycamores are a spaced-out family that pursues what pleases them. Paul Sycamore (Joneal Joplin) and his associate, Mr. DePina, construct fireworks in the basement. Penny Sycamore (Mickey Hartnett) took to writing plays because a typewriter was delivered to the door by mistake. Daughter Essie (Pamela Sterling) has been a ballet student for eight years. Her husband, Ed (Phil Kilbourne), plays the xylophone. And Grandpa Vanderhoff (Clayton Corzatte) left his job 35 years ago to attend commencement exercises and collect snakes. Everything is fine in the family until daughter Alice (Beth Baur) falls in love with Tony Kirby (Mark Steggerda), vice president of a large company and son of the CEO. It's a mother's dream come true. When the Kirbys and Sycamores collide, it's absolute hilarity.

But wait, Alice is convinced that true love will not overcome the stark differences between the two families. The Sycamores question their priorities and behavior in the wake of Alice's departure. Is the Anglo-American work ethic—that's prevalent on Wall Street and in the senior Mr. Kirby the truest philosophy? Grandpa straightens everything out. His simple line, "Life's kinda beautiful if you let it come to ya," works as well today as it did in 1896.

Members of the cast, the largest assembled in TPC's season, work perfectly together. It's a smorgasbord of humanity and each one is delicious. Hartnett as the lovable, meddling, dippy mother is very funny. Sterling as Essie is charming as the sister who always aspires for stardom. Joplin as the kind father is convincing—I wanted to ask him if I could borrow the car for a date. Baur as daughter Alice was delightful. This princess of the family had a girlish valentine resurrected from the 1940s.

Terrific support came from John Grassilli as Essie's dance teacher, Boris Kolenkhov. Grassilli is riotously funny as a gruff Russian. He is comically paired with Olga (Leah Jansky), cousin of the czar and waitress in a diner. Alan Clarey and Kathy Sitzer as Tony's socialite parents play their parts to perfection. It's a scream to watch Mrs. Kirby squirm as her deep marital secrets are inadvertently revealed during a game.

Gay Wellington (Barbara Plaffe), Penny's drinking actress friend, steals a scene when she emerges from her drunken stupor and takes Mr. Kirby in an ardent kiss. Kingsley Leggs as Donald and Linda Alton Randall as Rheba give bright, brief performances. Larry Dell and Wayne Solomon join the fun as FBI agents. Solomon also portrays an IRS agent. Watching his frustrated attempts to explain to Grandpa that he owes back taxes from 1917 is wickedly funny.

Corzatte as Grandpa deserves special accolades. This talented actor from Seattle brings vibrancy to George S. Kaufman and Moss Hart's lovable character. Corzatte delivers the funny lines with the easy timing of a New England farmer. Emotional moments, like Grandpa's advice to Mr. Kirby near the end, are high-charged, yet comforting. Grandpa is the crucial character in this fast-moving American comedy. TPC couldn't have picked a better man to be Martin Vanderhoff.

You Can't Take It With You is directed by Fontaine Syer (TPC artistic director). Syer knows this work well (she first directed it 17 years ago during summer stock in Massachusetts). Her love for the play is evident. Syer allows each character to shine on stage, while quietly keeping the play moving briskly along.

The wonderful set design is by Mel Dickerson. Costumes are by Elizabeth Eislsoffer. You Can't Take It With You will run through April 18. Every one should come visit the Sycamore-Vanderhoff household.

Alderman for and against permit law

To the editor:
The Granite City Press-Record states in its March 12 edition that they endorsed Mr. Lloyd Bailey because of his answer pertaining to the Telephone Tax Question which states, "He voted to remove it. I'm here to give them their wishes."
On occupancy permits, Mr. Bailey publicly states, "I don't support the Occupancy Permit Ordinance recently passed by the City Council."
Perhaps Mr. Bailey knows how to properly fill out a questionnaire. Also, perhaps he forgot his quote the Aug. 28, 1986, edition of the Press-Record/Journal where it reported "Fifth Ward Alderman Lloyd Bailey, and other supporters of the ordinance, gave credit to assistant city attorney Charles Douglas, who drafted the ordinance." Perhaps Mr. Bailey forgot he was the chairman of the committee drafting the occupancy ordinance he said he was opposed to.
The Sunday Journal of Sept. 14, 1986, quotes Mr. Bailey again, "The Occupancy Permits we need to protect housing in the city, I'm representing the people." Also, in the Sunday, Sept. 21, 1986, edition of the Journal, Mr. Bailey was quoted as saying, "The aldermen of the city want the permit, and they don't want you to tear it apart." In response to a statement of Alderman Hanke.

After the council voted to accept Mr. Bailey's Occupancy Permit Ordinance, he was quoted in the Sunday Journal of Oct. 19, 1986: Fifth Ward Alderman Lloyd Bailey, committee chairman, said he was hoping Mayor Cruse will not veto the ordinance. "We worked too long on the thing as it is," Bailey said, "I hate to see anything changed. It's right for everybody."
The article goes on and on, quoting Mr. Bailey on how good it was for everyone. Also at this meeting, Mr. Bailey voted "yes" to double his city expense account.
After Mayor Cruse vetoed the occupancy permit, the Thursday, Oct. 23 Press-Record quoted Mr. Bailey as saying, "It would be ineffective if changes were made," and again Mr. Bailey said, "I tried to do what was right for the people."

Now we have the case that Mr. Bailey wants to do what the people want. Are we to believe this, that the people wanted Mr. Bailey's ordinance until it was vetoed, and now the people don't want an ordinance?
As Mr. Bailey says, he is against the occupancy permit. The voting record of Mr. Bailey as published previously in the Press-Record shows Mr. Bailey was in favor of an occupancy permit, as long as it was from his committee. Could Mr. Bailey be putting, that he didn't get his way?
No, Mr. Bailey, you are not for the people. I feel you just know how to answer questionnaires like a typical politician.
Since Mr. Bailey wants to stay on both sides of the fence at the same time, I feel we need an alderman who knows where he stands at all times. That is why I am supporting William "Bill" Moreland.

Alderman Moad—He did it your way

To the editor:
Thank you, voters, for allowing me to represent you for the last four years. It is hard to express my deep appreciation to you for allowing me to serve you.
During the past four years, I have seen many changes in our city, some good and some not so good. I hope that you as citizens realize the importance of your City Council and its effect on your lives.
It is not uncommon to see less than 20 people at the City Council meeting. In the future, I hope to see more citizens come to the meetings to observe how the council is spending your tax dollars on city projects.
I, as your alderman, have been criticized by my political counterparts for my expressions on nepotism (preference given to relatives by relationship rather than merit for employment in our city); the utility tax; our constituents telling us by referendum to tighten our belts and watch our spending; and cable television.

All of a sudden, the aldermen say Nencom is no good; and yet when the franchise agreement was voted on and voted "no" I was criticized for hurting business in Granite City.
Deep wells: In May 1983 at a special meeting on sewer breaks, I brought up the question of deep wells as a means of helping to solve our high ground-water problem. Granite City Engineer Monroe Brewer stated this would not work. In 1987 the Corps of Engineers says it is feasible and some deep wells will be placed in affected areas soon.
The reason I bring these topics to your attention is not to build myself up or to pull others down. I simply want to state there are a variety of issues brought to the council that affect your lives and are not investigated thoroughly enough prior to voting.

I have been called a radical, a character, a troublemaker, and a few other superlatives that can't be printed. Up until the last few weeks, I was starting to think these people were right. But you know, I can honestly say I tried to serve the people, not special interest groups that revert to name-calling because I didn't give in to their wishes.
I said my piece at the City Council and township meetings, not behind their backs or at the local bars.
I have not sought re-election due to health and work commitments. I do hope again to someday seek public office if my personal life will permit the time needed to devote myself to serving the public.
Thank you again for allowing me to represent you. I hope I did it "your way."

Don't wall out progress

One of the most negative images plaguing Granite City is people's view of the "City Hall crowd" and the way it wields its power. Regardless of whether the image is accurate or inaccurate, it is consistent — a picture of City Council members erecting enormous barriers to progressive actions.

A current issue — whether to welcome and cooperate with a proposed Shoney's Restaurant — is a case in point. Officials seem only grudgingly receptive to the plan, as if the very idea is repugnant. It is far from repugnant. Granite Citizens already travel considerable distances to visit various Shoney's establishments, as well as going to the numerous fine restaurants here.

Some who are in authority seem to be saying, "Shoney's, we may be kind and let you locate in Granite City, but only in a neighborhood we select for you." Successful entrepreneurs need to make such decisions; a business might thrive at one site but not at another. Nevertheless, some officials feel they should dictate to the company, confirming citizens' worst assumptions about abusive government.

It is appropriate and necessary to consider both bad and good aspects of zoning and construction requests. But neighbors' sincere concerns sometimes escalate beyond the facts when they discuss potential noise, traffic, sanitation and other disadvantages.

We recall a previous dispute in which a clearly responsible and desirable restaurant chain was blocked by the city from building on Nameoki Road. On another occasion, 80 angry residents turned out for a Maryville Road on-site hearing on a proposed small office that would have generated no trash, no hubbub and little traffic. They prevailed, but was their negative attitude logical and was their "victory" fair?

Citizens' fears deserve consideration but sometimes stem partly from misinformation. Certainly, Nameoki Road traffic volume is a legitimate worry but it hardly is going to be changed much by one additional business. And Shoney's representatives have tried hard to tailor their plans to avoid harming nearby residential areas.

A valid argument could be made that a recession-beset community should not turn up its nose at the prospect of added employment, investment and tax revenue. In addition, there are such questions as how arbitrary city leaders ought to be, even if they can legally get away with it. Do they always know best? Are foes of development truly speaking for all, or are they just more vocal than others?

Do we elect aldermen so they can "protect us" by building walls against outsiders?

Endorsements repeated

The Press-Record made endorsements well in advance of the election to allow those we favor to use our backing, and so that those who weren't endorsed would have time to tell others why they think the newspaper's stand is wrong.

With the election five days off, the newspaper is repeating the names of those we think would do the best jobs in office:

Road quality affects all

Illinoisans usually don't take an active interest in Missouri state governmental matters, but they are actively rooting for approval of a 4-cent-per-gallon gasoline tax increase in Missouri's April 7 voting.

Bi-state metropolitan area commuters, in particular, are acutely aware of the importance of linking East St. Louis' Martin Luther King Bridge to the Interstate highway system in St. Louis. Tolls on the now-state-owned bridge ended Monday, and officials say needed improvements can be speeded if the fuel tax proposal is approved.

Another major consideration is the deteriorating condition of Missouri roads, whose upkeep is financed by the lowest state gas tax in the nation.

A few pennies in one's pocket don't offset the major losses resulting from wear and tear on vehicles, nor the anguish and costs associated with congestion, collisions, injuries and deaths.

Proposition A deserves a "Yes" vote.

Following the money trail

Before those who pass themselves off as being "independent candidates" in this election are taken at face value, examine where they're getting the money to make such statements on signs, on brochures, by mass mailings.

In some cases, campaign money may come from the candidate's own pocket, and from a few close friends and relatives. To mount a successful campaign usually takes spending a few dollars and there's nothing inherently wrong in that.

But a candidate who claims to be independent while simultaneously getting economic support from key political officials seems to be speaking out of both sides of the same mouth — he's definitely allied.

Independence is a rare, admirable quality in a candidate. But total honesty is the rarest and most desired.

More BAC tuition is too much

To the editor:
The $2 per credit hour tuition increase approved by the Board of Trustees of Belleville Area College is yet another example in a long line of poor decision-making at our community college.

There is little doubt that Wissore needs additional money to continue the current spending policies. The voters at the last election overwhelmingly informed the board that they would not pay more taxes. Illinois credit hour reimbursement rates are also not under Wissore's control. The only group left, the students who must pay the tuition, cannot defend themselves against unilateral additional charges short of boycotting our community college and making the entire financial situation worse. They must trust the board to act responsibly in their behalf. It did not.

In spite of Mrs. Jenner's, Mrs. Braxwell's and Student Board Member Suzanne Brigg's vote against the increase the Board of Trustees did not act in the best interests of the college's most important commodity, the students they are pledged to serve, and approved the $2 per credit hour tuition increase.

When a financial hardship occurs, either income can be increased, or expenditures decreased. Obviously the latter is repugnant to Wissore. A most recent example of excessive spending can be illustrated by Wissore's call for a community assessment study by Fleishman-Hillard at a cost of possibly $8,000. If this money had been given to students to offset the tuition increase, 1,230 full-time students would have not had a tuition increase next semester. Or, 6,150 students, each taking three semester hours, would not have to pay the increase. Other examples abound.

In a geographical region where unemployment is so high, and wage levels are slowly declining, it does not make sense to place an additional burden upon students and their families simply because they have a more difficult time in voicing their objections. Every member of the board is reasonably affluent, and therefore, cannot fully appreciate nor understand the impact which this $2 per hour increase has on families who are barely getting by.

Ironically, Belleville is rapidly assuming a unique place in Americana; there is unwanted trash at one end of the city, and an equally odorous and wasteful situation on the other. Each has existed for some time and the citizens of this community are weary and are demanding that their physical and educational environment be cleaned.

The board has penalized the students even more. Many areas of the college district are financially depressed. With enrollment continually going down, wouldn't it have been far better to lower tuition and attract more students — and come up with better methods of decreasing expenses? A majority of the Belleville Area College Board of Trustees has this reversed. They have made a decision which could result in an even more drastic decline of enrollment, thereby failing to produce the higher income which Wissore anticipates being able to spend.

Students will be rightfully angry about this tuition increase. They will have the opportunity to change the direction and priorities of the present board in the ballot box at the next general election in November, and will be joining many other taxpayers who demand more responsive and responsible representation from the elected trustees.

What is that on your face?

What is that dark stuff milady is smearing under and around her eyes? It's called "eye shadow," but what is it?

It's none of your business what it is, though it may irritate skin, cause photoreactions, dermatitis or serious eye problems.

There is almost no government control over the use of cosmetics.

If the cosmetic advertising makes no claim to cure, mitigate or treat anything — the FDA keeps hands off.

Every dermatologist knows that all this stuff we rub, pour, sprinkle or spray on in the name of vanity can sometimes create problems.

Dr. Paul Lazar of Chicago wrote an article in the March issue of Chis alerting fellow dermatologists to the potential hazards of cosmetics.

While cosmetic drugs — toothpastes that claim to prevent tooth decay, products to prevent sunburn, lip products to prevent chapping and anti-perspirants are subject to careful FDA scrutiny, there is little or no government supervision of powders, perfumes, lipsticks, eye shadow, eye liner, eyebrow pencils, colognes, moisturizers and all the lotions and potions that promise only to make you "beautiful."

Irritation or non-allergic reactions are the single most common difficulty one can expect from the use of cosmetics," Lazar said.

Skin care products and hair preparations (including color) account for 52 percent of all reactions, with facial makeup causing another 11 percent.

One recent study revealed the most common troublemaking ingredients are phenylendiamine, lanolin, glycerine monothioglycolate, propylene glycol, toluenesulfonamide/formaldehyde and sunscreen and ultraviolet absorbers.

More and more modern medicine is counseling, "Listen to your own body. More often than not it will tell you what is good for you and what is not good for you."

Unfortunately, with severe allergic reactions, the learning may come after irreparable damage.

It is "remarkable that so few tragedies have occurred," Lazar said.

Opposes SIU decertification drive

To the editor:
Many of you are aware that there is a union decertification drive being conducted on the SIUE campus. Some information about this situation should be available to the people of the area.

Approximately 815 civil service employees work at SIUE. Many of them have been represented by unions for years: the craftsmen, police, food service employees, laborers, broadcast engineers and operating engineers. Recently the Illinois Educational Labor Relations Act made it possible for other to unionize.

The clerical/kindred, technical/paraprofessional, and building service employees chose within the past two years to organize new unions. If working conditions and salary were not problems at SIUE, these people would not have elected to be represented by a union.

The decertification drive is only being directed toward clerical/kindred and technical/para-professional units who have joined together to form AFSCME Local 2887.

The contracts negotiated have given the people in these bargaining units benefits they did not have before.

1. Effective grievance procedure
2. Job audit time limits (Employee requests would get "lost" on administrative desks for long periods.)

3. Overload pay (They give extra work to employees for long periods of time before they hire replacements.)

4. Extra vacation
5. Extended sick leave for emergencies

6. Temporary assignment pay
7. Guaranteed overtime pay

In addition, the contracts have fair-share clauses. The agreement is that if more than 50 percent of the members of the bargaining unit are members of the union, the remaining people in the unit pay their fair share. They receive the same benefits as the members. The courts have determined this fair share to be 93 percent of the regular dues.

Fair share people are the ones who are conducting the decertification drive. Many of these are the higher paid employees. They have also received better treatment as far as working conditions are concerned. Naturally they would rather not have a union. Their special privileges and favored positions have been tarnished.

The administration would like to see the unions decertified. The faculty and professional staff are organizing unions also and the administration does not like this either. That is why they have hired a law firm from Chicago and sent $200,000 to the Chicago economy to fight union members.

We thought that the citizens of this area should know what is happening at SIUE.

LYNN FIELDS, SECRETARY
AFSCME Local 2887

THE LAW AND YOU

BY RICK REED
Attorney At Law

Parents and teachers frequently ask whether teachers can use corporal punishment in a given situation. In addition, educators have asked the Courts to determine what constitutes excessive corporal punishment. In one recent case in Illinois, the Court decided whether punitive damages should be allowed in a case where a teacher uses excessive corporal punishment.

The laws of the State of Illinois expressly give teachers authority to maintain discipline in the classroom for the safety and supervision of the students. In 1974 the Illinois Supreme Court decided that a teacher's right to discipline students will be held to the same test of reasonableness which is applied to parents in disciplining their own children. If a student does bring a Court action against a teacher for administering corporal punishment, the burden is upon the student to prove willful and wanton misconduct on the part of the educator. Willful and wanton conduct has been defined by the Courts as an intentional act or an act which exhibits a reckless disregard for the safety of others.

If a teacher does administer excessive corporal punishment, the next logical question is whether the student can recover punitive damages in addition to compensatory damages. If the student were only allowed to recover compensatory damages this would only compensate the injured party for the injury sustained, and nothing more. If punitive damages were denied in a case such as this, this would lessen the potential recovery by the student.

In a recent case, an elementary student, by his mother, filed suit against a teacher who allegedly administered excessive corporal punishment. The student filed suit against the teacher, the principal, the elementary school, and the Board of Education of the school district. In this case, the student asked for compensatory damages as well as punitive damages. The Trial Court threw out the Plaintiff's claim for punitive damages, and the case was taken up on appeal.

In deciding whether punitive damages would be allowed, the Appellate Court noted that it was generally recognized that punitive damages were awarded to punish an offender and to deter other similar misconduct. The Appellate Court felt that punitive damages should not be allowed in a case such as this. The Court felt that given the important role of education in our society, it was not desirable to make potential liability for punitive damages a major concern in a teacher's mind when he was called upon to maintain discipline in the classroom.

traditional American spirit of pride and optimism that was so conspicuously lacking before he assumed office.

The president is now eager to resume the forward thrust of his administration and tackle what is probably the most formidable challenge facing our country today — making our business and industry more competitive in the world marketplace.

His agenda to achieve this is sound, but he can scarcely be accused of hysteria and controversy swirling around the White House.

I say this with a president bashing has gone on long enough. Enough is enough. We have important work to do and it is time for us to get to it.

President has recognized his errors

To the editor:
The Tower Commission let President Reagan have it with both barrels, of that there can be no doubt.

The commission determined that the president erred in sending arms to Iran and that he did not exercise sufficient diligence in supervising activities of certain members of the White House staff.

For his part, President Reagan has accepted the commission's report with humility and graciousness. He has faced up to his own mistakes, acknowledged them before the American people and is now acting aggressively to install a new crew and resume his responsibilities with renewed energy.

I am well aware there are certain individuals in the news media and Congress who would like nothing better than to continue this inquisition, but we cannot permit it. Our country is confronted by many formidable challenges at home and abroad. It is imperative that we have an effective and dynamic chief executive in the White House. Despite the recent lapses, we must keep in mind he has proved himself to be precisely that kind of chief executive.

Mayor favors incumbents

To the editor:
Forty-three years ago our country had traveled through some of the roughest times in its history. Through strong leadership and a gutsy determination, Franklin Roosevelt had led our nation through the Great Depression and the dark early days of World War II to a point on the verge of total victory over the fascist powers.

Campaigning for an unprecedented fourth term, he used the slogan, "Don't change horses in mid-stream!" This just made good old-fashioned sense and the president was re-elected by a wide margin.

Today, our city stands in mid-stream looking back over the rough water that we have traversed and forward to a brighter tomorrow. And as it did in that presidential election 43 years ago, the slogan, "Don't change horses..." makes good sense for our times.

Over the past two years we have analyzed the severe problems and charted a course of action: expanded our city by almost 1,500 acres and $12 million in assessed value; decreased our unemployment rate; and taken steps to rebuild our central business district.

As we look ahead we must move surely but carefully to rebuild our infrastructure within the confines of our budget; expand our boundaries to promote growth and development; attract new industries like the ETICAM plant now under construction; and carry out the plan to build a downtown shopping center.

On April 7, you readers have the opportunity to help. The five men running for re-election know and understand the problems which our city faces. In my two years as mayor they have been strong supporters and advocates of the changes necessary to meet these challenges. They have been part of a City Council which works well as a team, providing strong but responsive city government.

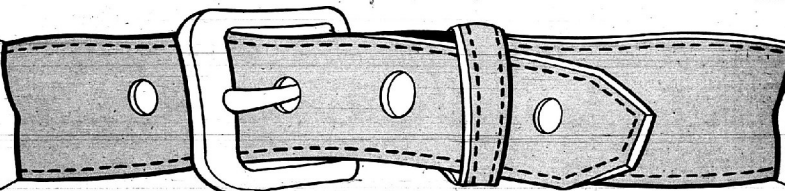

I urge you to take an active part in the renaissance of Granite City.

Go to the polls next Tuesday and retain the men who have helped us get this far: Everett Morlen, Sam Whitmer, Paul Fisk, Tom Hewlett and Lloyd Bailey. They are men I know and I should too.

Don't change horses in mid-stream! Help us get to the other side.

Grace Baptist to hear Dr. Ayers

Dr. Walter K. Ayers, one of the top evangelists in America today will be in revival at Grace Baptist Church, 2600 Edwards St., on Sunday, April 5 through Friday, April 10.

Services will begin on Sunday morning at 9:30 a.m. There will be evening services Sunday through Friday at 7 p.m.

Ayers has been in full time evangelism for 26 years. He has spoken at the Southern Baptist Convention and many other meetings that cover a tremendously varied spectrum. His ministry has also extended to the First Baptist Church of Dallas, which is the largest Southern Baptist church in America with more than 25,000 members.

Ayers led a unique life before he entered the ministry. In his earlier days, he was a heavy-weight boxer and played football for the Arkansas Razorbacks; a team for which he later became chaplain. He will be sharing his testimony and his story on Thursday evening of the revival which is also youth night. There will be a dinner served at 6:15 p.m. on Tuesday night for those who plan to attend the service. Reservations need to be made at the church or called in no later than Monday, April 6, before 2 p.m. and admission is free.

Dr. Bob Jones, pastor of the church, invites the public to attend this week of preaching and music.

St. Gregory welcomes pastor

St. Gregory the Illuminator Armenian Apostolic Church, 1732 Maple St., has announced that on Friday, April 3, the Rev. Father Nerses Manougian will arrive at the St. Louis airport to begin his duties here.

Rev. Manougian has just been assigned to St. Gregory's Church and will officiate in the divine liturgy Sunday, April 5, at 10:30 a.m. A dinner will immediately follow the church services and will be held at St. Gregory Armenian Community Center, 10 Colonial Drive.

Andrew Hagopian is chairman of the board of trustees of the church. He said Rev. Manougian was born in Beirut, Lebanon. The future pastor completed studies at the Armenian Day School and then applied and was accepted at the Theological Seminary, where he was ordained a deacon.

Manougian took three years of theological and Armenian studies at the seminary. His studies included English courses.

In 1972, Archdeacon Manougian taught Armenian at Isfahan, Iran, and organized the Garu Mourza Chorus. Simultaneously, he conducted the Yeghmalian Chorus of the All Saviors Cathedral of New Jersey.

In 1974 he moved to Abadan, Iran, where he carried on similar work in that Armenian community. The same year, he married Miss Nektar Meguerdichian. They have two children, Sevgi, born in 1976, and Sally, born in 1979.

Archbishop Mesrop Ashjian, prelate of the Armenian Apostolic Church in New York, invited the archdeacon and his family to Dearborn, Mich., where he served as choirmaster of St. Sarkis Armenian Apostolic Church. During his five years there, Manougian was active in the Armenian Saturday School System and participated in Dearborn Armenian community activities.

On Feb. 21 and 22, 1987, parishioners of St. Illuminator's Armenian Apostolic Cathedral of New York witnessed a rare ceremony: the ordination and anointment of the young clergyman.

After the ceremony of the calling, a reception was held for out-of-town guests, relatives and friends. Representing St. Gregory Church were Mr. and Mrs. Andre Hagopian of Granite City.

The service of the ordination and anointing and archdeacon Haroutine Manougian was held during a divine liturgy which was officiated by his eminence, Archbishop Ashjian, just before the reading of the lesson of the day, the candidate climbed the steps of the altar on his knees while the Very Rev. Anoushavan Tanielian and his aides read from Psalm 122.

Rev. and Mrs. Nerses Manougian

The candidate was escorted to the prelate with the following request: "Reverend Father, Our Holy Mother Church requests of you that you ordain Deacon Haroutine who is here presented to you, a priest for us."

Archbishop Ashjian blessed the candidate, who then was turned toward the west, facing the congregation, with his hands to the sides of his head. The candidate next was taken to the back of the altar to be vested with his priestly vestments and was returned to the archbishop, who anointed the forehead and right and left palms of the candidate, naming him Father Nerses.

The archbishop gave to the new priest a chalice with wine and bread, saying: "Receive and accept the authority and ability from the Holy Spirit, to celebrate the sacrifice in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ."

Priest to be given honor

More than a thousand White House retreatants, friends, and associates will gather for mass and breakfast Sunday, April 5, to honor the Rev. Lawrence M. Chiuminatto, S.J., as he celebrates his 50th year as a Jesuit priest.

Chiuminatto, director emeritus of White House Retreat, will be the principal celebrant of the Mass in the St. Louis Cathedral at 7:30 a.m. Conferees will include fellow Jesuits, four of whom were members of the 1937 ordination class.

They are the Revs. Harry A. Delaney, George E. Gauss, Thomas J. Hallahan, and Raymond H. Reis.

The Rev. Trafford Maher, S.J., will be the homilist.

Breakfast will follow at 9 a.m. in the Khorsassan Room of the Chase Hotel. Francis J. McKeon, president of Serra International, will be the breakfast speaker. Chiuminatto's priestly life has been spent with White House, the St. Louis Jesuit House of Retreat located on the Mississippi River bluffs south in St. Louis.

Founded in 1922 by the Rev. James A. Monaghan, S.J., White House Retreat has been in continuous operation, accommodating more than 120,000 retreatants during the past 65 years.

Since retiring in 1966 after 35 years as director of the retreat house, Chiuminatto has remained active on the staff doing pastoral work among retreatants and their families.

Born in 1905 in Green Bay, Wis., of immigrant parents, he entered the Society of Jesus at St. Stanislaus Seminary in Florissant, Mo., in September, 1924.

His Jesuit studies were completed in Cleveland in 1939. From there he was sent to his first assignment at White House Retreat.

In 1941 he became director. The April 5 celebration marks the 65th anniversary of annual general meetings have been held for White House retreatants. In recent years, family members and guests have shared in the events.

'Spring Fashions '87' theme of annual fashion show

The latest in spring fashions will be highlighted during the annual fashion show of the Women's Division of the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce on April 25.

"Spring Fashions '87" is the theme of the style show to be held at the Sunset Hills Country Club. An 11 o'clock brunch is scheduled to proceed the modeling of the new fashions. The brunch is included in the $10 cost of tickets to the affair.

Seating is limited and tickets must be purchased in advance. Becky Slate is in charge of ticket sales.

Tickets are available from any member of the Women's Division or at the Chamber office at 1831 Delmar Ave. during regular business hours.

Janet Quarton, executive director of the Tri-Cities Area United Way, will be the narrator for the event.

Mary Jessee is chairman of the event and Bev Partney is in charge of program design and printing.

Jack Jenkins named minister of music

The congregation of Third Baptist Church, 2601 Grand Ave., is announcing the ordination of Jack E. Jenkins as the minister of youth and music. Jenkins served the church as part-time minister since July 1986, until his ordination at the church on March 29, 1987. He will now serve the church in that capacity on a full-time basis.

Jenkins was licensed to the ministry from Third Baptist Church on Feb. 26, 1978. Rev. Watkins was the guest speaker for his ordination service.

The present pastor of Third Baptist, the Rev. Jim Donahue, led the congregation in the remainder of the ordination. Lois Bilbrey sang two favorite songs of Jenkins and a churchwide reception was held in his honor for the many friends who attended the ceremony.

A native of Granite City, he attended the local schools. From 1974 until 1982 he served the Second Baptist Church of Granite City. In 1982 and 1983, he was minister of youth and music at First Baptist Church in St. Peters, Mo.

Since the restoration of the Fox Theater in St. Louis, Jenkins has been resident organist for that theater. Jenkins and his wife, Melodee, are members of the Downtown Neighborhood Restoration Society and are restoring their home at 2257 Cleveland Blvd. He is the son of Ed and Rosalie Jenkins of 3153 Pehling Road. His sister, Carolyn, is the director of music for Niedringhaus United Methodist Church.

Some Of Us Don't Take Breathing For Granted

FOR RELIEF FROM:

R Sinus drainage Frontal headache
Nasal polyps Recurrent sinus infection
Post-nasal drainage Refractory asthma

Is the simple pleasure of closing your eyes, tilting back your head, and taking a deep breath of fresh morning air only a memory? It doesn't have to be.

St. Elizabeth Medical Center now offers endoscopic surgery, the latest in nasal and sinus surgery. No other hospital in the Metro-East area offers this surgery.

The surgery, performed by ear, nose and throat specialist Jeffrey Fierstein, M.D., and his associate James Fernandez, M.D., enables extensive sinus surgery with less of the discomfort associated with past treatments.

It is surgery for those who do not respond to regular medical treatment such as long-term antibiotics and antihistamine decongestant therapy.

The process involves the use of delicate miniature telescopes and specially designed microscopic instruments to examine and remove the diseased areas of the nasal passages.

In most cases, it is an out-patient procedure lasting from a half-hour to two hours, and the patient has the choice of staying awake or taking a general anesthetic.

Combining the endoscopic surgery program with the expertise of allergy specialist Barry F. Zeffren, M.D., gives SEMC a complete nasal-sinus treatment center.

You can breathe freely again.

Bi-State rejects funding for office improvements

Plans to spend as much as $93,000 on renovations to the executive floor of the Bi-State Development Agency headquarters on Laclede's Landing were denied March 27 by the agency's board of commissioners.

"I think this is too frivolous for us even to consider," said Kenneth Evers, Edwardsville, one of five commissioners from Illinois and the board's treasurer.

"Federal funding for mass transit is getting bleaker every year; $93,000 is a lot of money no matter how you cut it. I just feel it (taxpayers' money) can be better used in other areas."

But Executive Director Raleigh D'Adamo said lighting on the floor is "atrocious" and that managers need the privacy of offices to conduct agency business adequately.

"The lighting is well below standards and, frankly, I cannot work in it," he said. "It's simply a matter of being able to operate without typewriters, telephones and computers buzzing all over the place."

The renovation plans call for remodeling and preparing three offices for D'Adamo and two recently-hired deputy directors and improving lighting on the floor.

"I don't understand how the lighting system can be that bad," Evers said. A private conference room and the board room can be used for privacy, he said.

Evers and another commissioner from Illinois, Carey Cason, voted against the proposal. Although three commissioners from Missouri and two from Illinois voted in favor of the renovation expense, a majority of commissioners voting for a proposal from each state is necessary for it to pass. Three commissioners were absent.

D'Adamo said he plans to ask for reconsideration of the proposal in April.

The building at 707 N. First St. was renovated for Bi-State in 1981 at a cost of about $6.9 million. Officials said this would be the first renovation since then. About half of the $93,000 would be spent on the new offices and the other half on lighting improvements.

Officials said most of the cost would be for materials and most of the work would be done by workers employed by the agency.

"This is not lavish; it's not exuberant," D'Adamo said. "It's the bare minimum needed."

D'Adamo said the board should consider setting aside funds specifically for building improvements. "The building cannot go without capital upkeep," he said.

Named top administrator

Ted Lewis, dean of administration and student personnel services at the Red Bud Campus of Belleville Area College, has been named BAC administrator of the year.

Lewis of Belleville came to BAC in 1981 as director of the veterans services office. He served as assistant director of financial aid from 1982 until 1984 when he was appointed to his current position.

The annual award was voted on by BAC administrators. "When your peers recognize you, it carries a lot of weight."

Having their respect is truly an honor," Lewis said.

Lewis is a 1971 graduate of Pennsylvania State University. He earned a master of science degree in educational administration from SIUE in 1980. Lewis also is enrolled in the master's of management degree program at Webster University.

A 10-year veteran of the U.S. Air Force, Lewis is married to the former Kathryn Schmidt of Belleville. They have two sons. Lewis is the son of Ted Lewis of Dollestown and the late Grace Lewis.

Treys are served in prep hoops

The fans asked for it. They got it. The Illinois High School Association conducted a phone poll during the Class AA basketball finals March 29-31. At stake was the possible implementation of the three-point shot in high school games next season. The fans voiced their approval of the idea by a 2-to-1 margin.

In the meantime, the National Federation of High School Athletic Associations approved the shot at its annual meeting in Kansas City last Thursday. The IHSA will follow the lead of the NFHSAA, so it will be bombs away next winter.

"Our board of directors has the right to modify the rules of the national federation," said Don Robinson, assistant executive secretary of the IHSA. "But we don't usually do it. And I think it is fair to assume we won't in this case. As far as I'm concerned, it's a fact for next season."

Robinson said the three-point shot has been an agenda item for quite some time, and it should become official no later than the May meeting of the IHSA board of directors. "I think there has been a positive reaction to it," Robinson said. "There are a lot of coaches who don't like it. They have been coaching one way all their lives, and they don't want to change. But there are many who do like it."

Among the three local coaches, there is a pleasant diversity in opinion. Venice's Chilton Harris likes it; Madison's Rich Essington doesn't; and Granite City's Don Deterding said he wasn't sure yet if he will like it.

"I thought it was something they should have done when the colleges went to it," Harris said of the 19-foot, 9-inch shot. "It will probably eliminate lots of zone defense."

Essington spoke out against the new feature in the past. "I don't care much for it," he said. "I just don't think the game was meant to be won on that kind of shot in the last second. And it's one more thing for the officials to worry about. The Oklahoma-UNLV game proved that."

In that college game this year, a UNLV three-point shot at the end of the first half was incorrectly ruled a two-pointer. The Rebels lost the game by one point, their only loss of the year until the Final Four.

"Teams won't be able to sit back in a zone with a three-point lead, or even a two-point lead," Essington said. "If they want to make some changes, I would rather see a shot clock of some sort. They could have a shot clock instead of the five-second violation for holding the ball."

Deterding was left wishing somebody had thought of the rule a couple years ago. With long-range bombers like Jeff Gray, Tim Hogan and Jamie Hogan in the fold the past few years, the Warriors would have been sitting pretty.

"I wish we would have had it this year," Deterding said. "It might have changed the Belleville-West game around. Jamie was a very accurate outside shooter."

"It was inevitable. The only thing I question is the distance. It's not very far, even for high school kids, especially in the corners. It looks a little closer."

Deterding agreed it will change coaching strategies in the last few minutes of the game. "The shot will be a factor. Teams won't be able to sit back and wait for the other team. It's a traditionalist, but it's something we will try to utilize."

TIM HOGAN of the Warriors is caught in a rundown between second and third during the first inning of Wednesday's game. Wood River third baseman Eric Decker waits for Hogan, who was eventually tagged out.

Warriors clipped by Oilers

By Dave Whaley
Executive sports editor

WOOD RIVER — It was one of those games when the team with the last at-bat figured to win. Unfortunately for the Warriors, that's the way it happened. The Wood River Oilers scored three runs in the bottom of the seventh Wednesday night to sneak away with a 12-11 win over Granite City in a non-conference game. Scott LeVault, whose soaring double to right center field tied the game in the sixth inning, was unable to hold off the hard-hitting Oilers in the last frame.

"We just got beat by a team that was a little better than we were," said Warrior coach Bob Stogemeier, who was hurrying to get on the warm school bus. "The temperature plunged more than 20 degrees during the game, and the last inning was a cold snap in the face of the Warriors' didn't need as they fell to 2-1. Granite City appeared to score the winning runs in the top of the seventh as they broke a 9-9 tie, but the Oilers battled back."

Bill Rook singled to right against LeVault, the fifth Warrior pitcher. Matt King struck out, but Braun Borman lined a double into right field, his third hit — to place the tying runs in scoring position. A wild pitch scored one run and moved Borman to third, then Kyle Barry tripled to deep right field to make it 11-11.

LeVault reached back and fanned Brad Harrison, then appeared to have Eric Decker faulked on a couple of close pitches. But Granite City didn't get the call, and Decker then bobbled a slow roller down the third base line. Tim Patterson made a nice barchanded stab of the ball, but his throw was too late to nip Decker and Barry came across with the winning run. "It's too bad the game had to be won on a hit like that," Stogemeier said. "But we didn't execute defensively and we didn't pitch very well. I thought we had them struck out about three times in the last inning. But there's no need to make a fuss about that. They just made above the eye, and he left the game. Tim Hogan doubled, then Jamie Hogan's grounder went right through Chris Zupan, the new shortstop, to make it 4-1. Jamie scored on two wild pitches by starter Mike Bellin. Warrior starter John Moad went only two innings because of the cold weather, and Mike George pitched a good third inning before getting into trouble in the fourth. The Oilers loaded the bases before Scott Schwager singled in a run. A walk to Zupan made it 5-3, and Darin Hendrickson replaced George.

But Borman doubled inside third base to score the tying runs, then Barry's grounder put Wood River ahead. Patterson fielded Decker's grounder but threw wide of second for what would have been the third out, and Borman scored to make it 7-5.

The Warriors tied the game in the fifth on Moad's bloop hit and a wild pitch. They had runners at first and third, but Borman and Wilson fanned before Tim Hogan popped out. Wood River went ahead 9-7 in the bottom of the fifth after the Warriors failed to turn a double play. With two outs and a runner on first, Zupan doubled and Borman walked against lefty Mark Begando. Barry then singled in two.

Against righthander Matt King, the Warriors kept the seasaw turning in the sixth. Jeff Grote walked and stole second. Hinterser ripped a single to left, with Grote holding at third and Hinterser going to second on the throw back in. LeVault then sent a screaming line drive off the right field wall to bring both the plays and we didn't." Both teams came into the game with good lineups, and they combined for 29 hits — 15 by the Oilers and 14 by the Warriors. LeVault and Tim Patterson had three hits apiece. The Warriors missed a chance to score in the first when Tim Hogan was picked off second base. Then Todd Admitis was thrown out at the plate after Todd Hinterser caused a commotion by making a wide turn around first after drawing a walk. Admitis was also ejected from the game for trying to run over catcher Rick Pedorchak instead of sliding. The Oilers scored in the first on an RBI double by Harrison.

But the Warriors got five in the second on a blood RBI single by catcher Dave Bamber and a bad hop single by Rich Wilson. Wilson's shot came up and struck shortstop Chris Morris in the head. Morris was hurt but didn't leave the game. "We're looking for a hitter at

Trojans slugged by Tigers, 22-1

By Carl Jacobs
Staff writer

MADISON — It was a/cold day to play baseball Tuesday. Maybe too cold for Madison, as they committed seven errors, threw five wild pitches and allowed two passed balls. The result was a chilling 22-1 loss to Dupo in the season opener for both teams.

The Trojans were their own worst enemy in this game. In the opening inning, Dupo's first two men reached base without a hit. The Tigers' Jeff Plunkett then hit a triple driving in two runs. Scott-Tiemann reached on an error before Todd Thrasher hit a home run.

Pitcher Lester Buckels, who did not pitch as bad as the results indicated, retired two batters before two errors let in three more Dupo runs. Before a shaky diving catch by center fielder Carlos Briggs, Dupo had nine runs.

The Trojans looked as if they were going to strike back in their half of the first inning. After two were out, Quincy Williams drew a walk and was wild pitched to second.

Antonio Wellmaker then hit an opposite-field double scoring Williams. But Terry Jackson grounded out to end the inning.

In the second inning, Buckels walked two batters and Madison committed an error, but the Trojans managed to get out of the inning with just one run scored against them.

Buckels got Todd Thrasher to ground out to open the inning. Mike Ryan then walked and moved to second on Rich Barcum's groundout. An error allowed Ryan to score. Buckels then struck out Tim Qualls to end the inning.

Dupo pitcher Ron Mosbacher found his stride in the second inning, setting down the Trojans in order.

"I am glad he (Ron Mosbacher) kept his concentration," said Dupo coach Jim Munden. "He had a rough first inning and it was important that he threw strikes with the nine-run lead."

RAY SCOTT of the Warrior tennis team returns a shot during Tuesday's season opener at home against Hazelwood East. Scott lost his match 7-5, 5-7, 0-6 and the Warriors fell to Hazelwood East 4-3. Matt Krekovich and Richard Harmon won their singles matches, but Bill Gaunter lost his and the Warriors dropped two of three doubles matches. They play at McCluer North Friday and at Cahokia Monday before returning home to face Belleville East Tuesday.

Pitching again the key for Davis, Lady Warriors

By Dave Whaley
Executive sports editor

GRANITE CITY — It sounds like a broken record, but the success of the Warrior softball team will depend heavily on that most important of things: Pitching.

It's the same every year. Pitching is important in baseball. But, if such a thing is possible, it's even more important in fast-pitch softball. One dominant pitcher can carry a team to the heights. Pitching problems can drag a team to the bottom of the standings.

Amy Moss kept the Warriors in the middle of the pack last year with a 10-15 record, but she has graduated. Junior Tammy LeVault steps into the No. 1 pitching spot for Jim Davis, who begins his fourth year at the helm.

"Tammy has the edge right now," Davis said of the competition for the top spot on the mound. "We're just hopeful she can get the ball over the plate. That's the big thing. I see some improvement in her from last year, and she has a very positive attitude."

"Another concern is having her go seven innings, and I think she has a little more stamina." Other pitching candidates include seniors Sandy Sternberg and Amber Marsh and freshman Kim Pawlak. They have all shown flashes of potential.

"The key for us is getting someone who can throw strikes. That's the pitcher I'm going to use, because I think we can field eight girls who can catch the ball."

Leading the way in the field is senior third baseman Ker Holtkamp, one of the hardest hitters in the area and a good fielder.

"I thought he should have been the all-conference third baseman last year," Davis said. "She can really hit, she has a strong arm and she will be a leader for us. She has a great attitude."

Around the infield will be either junior Tracy Gaudette or Pawlak at shortstop. Junior Kathy Lewis, last year's second baseman, will compete with Jamie Sieber at that position, while the first base position is up for grabs among seniors Marsh and Diana Berget and freshman Michelle Bergette.

"We're looking for a hitter at the mound. We're just hopeful she can get the ball over the plate. That's the big thing. I see some improvement in her from last year, and she has a very positive attitude."

Madison runners win at Red Bud

Both the Madison boys and girls track teams won tri-meets at Red Bud Tuesday. The Trojans rebounded from some subpar efforts in the past week to score a convincing victory. Charlie Steptoe's team won 13 of 18 events and totalled 95 points. Red Bud was next with 30 points and Dupu had 39.

Madison won in all four relay events. The 3200 meter relay team won with a time of 9:14.5; the 200 team won at 3:53.5; the 800 team won at 1:42.4; and the 400 relay team won at 46.03.

Joe Leonard led the way for the Trojans, as the sophomore took first place in three events. He won the 100 meter dash, 11.5 seconds; the 200 dash, 24.8; and the long jump, 20 feet, 5 inches.

Other first place finishers and their winning scores were Avery Ware in the 800 meter run, 5:10.9; Ware in the triple jump, 40-38 (a personal best); William Blodgett in the 400 meter run, 55.4; Keith Smith in the 1600 meter run, 5:24.8; Ted Kemp in the shot put, 42.5; and Orlando McCarty in the high jump. The high jump competition was stopped because of darkness, and McCarty was awarded the win due to fewer misses. His jump of 5-10½ matched that of the Trojans' Howard Murray.

Second place finishers included Marvin Gates in the 3200 meter run, 12:23.4; Jay Blakely in the 100 meter dash, 12.0; McCarthy in the 110 high hurdles, 18.0; McCarthy in the 300 low hurdles, 43.0; Michael Roberts in the 800 meter run, 2:24; Ricky Ball in the 400 meter run, 56.5; and Kemp in the discus, 100-8.

Third place finishers included Gates in the 1600 meter run, 5:38.8; and Blakely in the long jump, 18-11.

The Trojans were edged by Cahokia in a dual meet last Monday, 72-65, despite winning 10 of 17 events. The 3200 relay team of Eric Richardson, Rex and James Whitehead and Avery Ware won their event. Other winners included Gates in the 3200 run, McCarthy in the 110 high hurdles, the 300 low hurdles and the high jump; Leonard in the 100 dash and the long jump; Avery Ware in the 800 run; Smith in the 1600 run; and Kemp in the shot put.

Madison was fourth among four teams at Highland last Thursday. Mascoutah was first with 82½ points. Jerseyville (68), Highland (64) and Madison (41½) followed. Leonard (100 dash and long jump) and McCarthy (high jump) were the Trojans' only first place finishers.

Madison was to run at Dupu Wednesday, and will have their first home meet Monday against Collinsville. The Trojannes won their tri-meet at Red Bud with 58 points. Red Bud had 53 points, while Dupu added 32.

First place finishers for Madison were the 800 medley team of Sheila Marshall, Lisa Davenport, Tammy Deal and Melissa Davenport with a time of 2:01.1; the 400 relay team of Sheila Marshall, Sharon Browley, Tammy Deal and LaGloria Marshall, 52.6; the 800 relay team of Dezona Echols, Sheila Marshall, Lisa Davenport and LaGloria Marshall, 1:54.5; LaGloria Marshall in the high jump, 4-8; Echols in the 300 hurdles, 55.8; and Vergie Green in the shot put, 30-2.

Second place finishers included Browley, 100 dash, 14.1; Browley, 200 dash, 29.0; Melissa Davenport, 400 dash, 68.3; Volanda Turner, 800, 3:08; Brandy Woods, 3200, 16:02; Echols, 100 hurdles, 17.3; Dionne Fletcher, discus, 72-7; and Dettra Blakely, long jump, 14-5.

Third place finishers included Blakely, 200 dash, 29.8; Chelsea Smith, 400 dash, 70.6; Smith, 100 hurdles, 20.4; Paula Ware, 300 hurdles, 50.2; Fletcher, shot put, 25-10; Green, discus, 59-11; and Browley, long jump, 14-1.

The Trojannes also ran at Dupu Wednesday and will face Collinsville at home Monday.

first base," Davis said. "Offense will probably decide who gets to start."

Senior Kim Corey returns behind the plate.

"Kim improved a whole lot defensively last year," Davis said. "Next to a pitcher, a good catcher is the most important thing on a team."

Outfield candidates include Sternberg, Gaudette, junior Lisa Mills, senior Linda Aikman and LeVault. Sternberg, in particular, proved to be a very good defensive outfielder last season.

"I told the girls that most of the action will take place on the infield," Davis said. "But we will still need to cover some ground in the outfield, and Sandy can do that. And I think we should be able to play the infield very well."

Of the offense, Holtkamp figures to lead the way. But Davis also sees potential in Bequette, as well as Sternberg and LeVault. Gaudette and Lewis are the best bunters on the team.

"I'm impressed with the freshmen we have coming up," Davis said. "I think we have the program on the right track. We play good competition, and that should make us better. The key to us will be our start."

The start will be at Wood River Monday, with the home opener Wednesday — against Mascoutah. In the conference, Davis sees both Belleville schools as being strong again. West went to state behind the pitching of Dana Mareshe, who has graduated. Collinsville will also have a program starting this year, with Kahok basketball coach Bob Bone coaching the girls.

But the area's biggest power should be Cahokia, simply because they have the most dominant pitcher, Sharon Coleman. Civic Memorial will be strong again despite the loss of the incomparable Roanna Brazier, now hurrying her lefthanded darts at the University of Kansas.

The Warriors will host their own four-team tournament May 2, with Madison, Wood River and Rosary participating.

Park announces Cardinal trips

The Granite City Park District will again provide free buses for senior citizens to four St. Louis Cardinal baseball games this season.

According to the Cardinal ticket office, senior citizen tickets for the 65 and older. # Trojanettes drubbed by Greyhounds, 25-10

By Gina Reynolds
Correspondent

MADISON — Although these Greyhounds don't move coast to coast, the Lebanon girls softball team rolled into Madison and over the Trojanettes, handing the girls from Madison their second loss in a row.

Although the 25-10 score may show up as a "1" in the box score, coach Carol Cole and her enthusiastic troop were pitted against some good pitching, backed by a strong defensive effort by the Greyhounds. And, according to Cole, she has seen great improvement over last year's squad.

"They're a good bunch of kids," Cole said. "They're already better than they were last year."

But despite improvements — and sending nine runs across the plate in a fifth-inning comeback attempt — the Trojanettes were no match for Lebanon.

The first inning saw the Greyhounds score nine runs on only three hits, mostly the result of seven walks and nine stolen bases. The second inning provided a repeat of the first, with the Greyhounds racking up nine more runs. And, again like the first, the runs were mostly the result of many walks and few hits.

After 18 runs, Cole had seen enough and brought in Nicole

"Spider" Howard to replace starter Charlotte Kuttan on the mound, which appeared to be what the Trojanettes needed. Howard shut down the Greyhounds in order in the top of the third and was able to hold the opposing team to just one run until the fifth.

But Lebanon then put the game out of reach, scoring six more runs in the fifth.

"I'm just really happy for the girls," said first-year coach Melody Evans. "Lebanon has struggled for a lot of years."

And with the onset of the bottom of the fifth, the Greyhounds had to struggle just a little bit longer. Not only did they have to fight the wind and the rain, but the Trojanettes displayed a "never say die" spirit and set their sights on a comeback.

After a trio of singles loaded the bases, substitute shortstop Michelle O'Dell ripped a double, scoring two runs. That was followed by another single by Beradette Brandon, after which Howard sent a shot into left field for a double, sending home two more runs.

At that point, it appeared as if the Greyhounds had lost all their composure, letting balls fall throughout the infield. But when the third out of the inning was recorded, it found the Trojanettes out of time and out of the game.

Cole attributes the inconsistent playing to the fact that her players are young — very inexperienced and haven't quite learned to listen.

"I can't coach," Cole said. "I have to teach. They need to listen to me and learn to trust me."

And although they suffered a 25-8 opening-day blowout by Dupu Tuesday, this young corps is not discouraged, but are instead looking forward to their match this Friday against Venice.

"Venice will be the game," Cole said. "They'll make plays they never have. They'll be up."

don't know right now if I'm for it, but we have three or four kids coming up who are capable of shooting it.

Essington said he has one player, Clarence Williams, who could be an effective three-point shooter. Dale Turner is one Red Devil who might benefit from the shot next year, especially since he will be expected to score a little more next season. Venice will be an inside team next season, with players like Dupo put the game out of reach as they scored four runs on two hits in the third inning. The Tigers loaded the bases on a walk, a hit batsman and a single. Plunkett, who had two triples in the first inning, hit a double driving in two more runs. An error and a wild pitch enabled the other two runs to score.

Although his 11-hit attack produced 22 runs, Munden said his team was not swinging the bat well.

"They had a few good cuts," Munden said. "But they didn't have the level swings I was looking for."

Dupo added eight runs in the final inning as Munden replaced

Hogan going to second on the throw. Jamie Hogan's grounder was fielded by Decker at third base, but the throw home eluded Fedorchak and both runners scored when the ball went to the backstop.

Hosea King, Lionel Wiley and Daryl Jackson. Jesse Hall made three threes in the Superfan Spectacular at SIUE, but Wilfred Wigfall and Orlando Love were better outside shooters than Hall.

In the meantime, the shot will add another measure of excitement to high school games next year. The teams with shooters will let it fly. Otherwise, it will probably be used mostly in desperation situations in the last few minutes.

many of his starters. Again, two errors hurt Madison.

Only three runs crossed the plate before the errors opened the gates.

Going into the last inning, Mosbacher retired seven in a row before he hit Briggs. But Jackson hit into a double play to end the game.
